Snider, Shirley

Shirley enjoyed the time she spent volunteering at Heritage School. She felt it was important to learn about the past. Shirley enjoyed teaching and loved the opportunity to interact with children. Dressing up in the clothing of that era, including wearing her grandmother's button shoes, reminded her of her own history and the stories she wanted to pass along to the present students. We are hoping the kindness Shirley shared will be remembered at Heritage School.

Soeteber, Dr. Warren

Warren was an Administrator to two of my three children in Sheboygan's public schools. A best memory of him is of being a neighbor with Jan next door, sharing his wit and happiness with her together.

Soeteber, Dr. Warren

Through Dr. Warren Soeteber's foresight and leadership while working as Superintendent of Sheboygan Area School District in 1975, Sheboygan County's living history museum was developed. He remained on the Heritage School Council until his passing at 102 years old. Over the years, his love of Heritage School was shared by many adults and fourth-grade students. We owe Dr. Soeteber a debt of gratitude for his support and advocacy.

Soeteber, Dr. Warren

We lost Dr. Soeteber, the driving force behind Heritage School's formation, to the pandemic. As the Sheboygan School District Superintendent in 1980, he was able to make a trade with the city to get the Third Ward School and land back for the school district. He supported the proposal for restoration to turn the building into the Heritage School Museum and remained on the Friends of Heritage School Council. He also was a teacher and docent at Heritage School for many years and donated many items to the museum. He loved Heritage School, and we loved him.
